

PROBING INTO THE BIG TRUST

Of Sugar Company is Resumed at Washington
ALL COMPETITORS QUIT
When They Tired of Losing---Head of Concern Testifies Before Committee.

New York, July 19.—Such inner workings of the American Sugar Refining company, the so-called Sugar Trust, as Washington B. Thomas, chairman of its board of directors, revealed under prolonged questioning, interested the members of the special Congress committee, which resumed here yesterday the investigation it has been conducting in Washington. Mr. Thomas could see no present evil in the company or its methods, although he said he did not agree with the policy in vogue under the late H. O. Havemeyer.

What was regarded as perhaps the most important testimony of the day was a statement by Mr. Thomas that the America Sugar Refining Company is thoroughly in sympathy with the suit in New Jersey to retire and invalidate the common stock of the National Sugar Refining company. The American owns most of the preferred stock in that company and Mr. Thomas said that the preferred stock would be greatly enhanced by the retirement of the common stock. It would also give the American absolute control of what is said to be its greatest competitor.

Mr. Thomas said conditions had changed since Havemeyer was president of the company and ran it "as a captain rules his ship." He told of the warfare between the company and its chief rivals, the Arbuckles and the Spreckels, and expressed the opinion that these competitors ceased their opposition "because they got tired of losing money."

After detailing the various offices he had held with the company, Thomas said that his father, Joseph B. Thomas, had sold the Standard Sugar Refinery in Boston to the American company in 1887, the year in which other companies were absorbed. As he could not recall what his father received for the Standard, he was instructed to get the facts from his office in Boston.

Mr. Thomas said that in 1891 the American company was capitalized at $50,000,000, which was increased to $75,000,000 when the American took in the Philadelphia refineries and to $90,000,000 when it entered the beet sugar field.

He said he wished it understood that nothing he said or might say was to be interpreted as an attack on Mr. Havemeyer.

"Mr. Havemeyer ran the company," he explained, "as a captain runs a ship. He did what he thought was best for the stockholders. Of course, public opinion has changed since then. You know Mr. Havemeyer didn't believe in letting the public know what he was doing."

Mr. Thomas admitted that the American company, after buying the stock of the Baltimore Refining company, closed the refinery there and shipped the machinery to New Orleans, where labor was cheaper.

"After acquiring the Muilenbaue and other refineries," asked Mr. Hardwick, "did not Mr. Havemeyer, James H. Post, representing other refineries, and one or two other men meet and agree to limit the output of sugar and its price?"

"Not that I know of."

Mr. Thomas said the American owns much of the preferred stock of the National Sugar Refining company, but none of the common stock. The present suit in the court of chancery of New Jersey to investigate the common stock of the National company he admitted would greatly enhance the value of the preferred stock.

Mr. Thomas answered that he was in Cuba when the suit was begun and knew nothing about it and said he had been retained as counsel for the complainants in the case.

"In 1893 did the American Sugar Refining company authorize Mr. Havemeyer, Mr. Snoff and you to purchase competitors at any price you saw fit and to fix the price of sugar?"

"I don't believe we ever operated under the authorization. I have no recollection of it."

What ended the sugar war between Spreckels of California and the American company?

"They got tired of losing money, I guess."

What was the cause of the sugar war between Arbuckles and the American Sugar Refining company?

"Arbuckles wanted a discount on the sugar he purchased and Havemeyer would not give it. Arbuckle put up a sugar refinery and we started in the coffee business in Toledo. The war

ELECTION OF CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION DELEGATES

Columbus, July 19.—Attorney General Hogan today resurrected an opinion rendered by himself on Feb. 10, 1911, to refute the widely circulated report that delegates to the constitutional convention cannot be elected on non-partisan ballots. The attorney general holds that the non-partisan election is constitutional and cites a decision of the supreme court in proof of his contention.

was on and it was a merry one." "What brought it to an end?" "I guess they got tired of losing money."

"Did Arbuckle and Havemeyer have a conference just before the war was ended?"

"Yes, and we went out of the coffee business."

"And Arbuckle has been following your sugar prices since?"

"Yes, he makes his prices the same as ours."

Congressman Baker questioned Mr. Thomas as to his acquaintance with Havemeyer and other officials of the company. Mr. Thomas' memory was sufficiently hazy to excite the ire of Mr. Baker, who said he doubted the good faith of the head of the American Sugar Refining company.

"How much were you worth when you were elected head of the American Sugar company?" Mr. Baker asked Mr. Thomas suddenly.

Mr. Thomas did not desire to answer, but on being pressed, he said that at the time he was worth between $200,000 and $250,000.

Mr. Baker took exception to the general tendency of sugar company employees to shift blame on the late Mr. Havemeyer. He induced Mr. Thomas to admit that the board of directors always knew what was going on; that Havemeyer submitted all matters to the board, and that the board was free to object or overrule Havemeyer if it so desired.

"Were you present at a meeting of the board of directors of the American (Continued on Page 7, Col. 6.)

DIRECTOR SCOTT

Taken to Zanesville to Appear Before United States Commissioner.

Director of Public Safety Fletcher Scott was arrested Wednesday upon complaint of a Delaware citizen, who charged him with impersonating a United States deputy marshal.

Mr. Scott made his appearance before a United States commissioner at Zanesville and the hearing was set for next Tuesday.

The Delaware citizen charges that Mr. Scott endeavored to force payment of a bill due the Howell Provision Company of this city by displaying a badge and claiming connection with the office of a United States marshal.

Mr. Scott was out of the city and could not be seen to get his side of the story.

PREFERS ART TO HIS WIFE

Cleveland, July 19.—Forced, as he declares, to choose between his love for his wife and his love for his art, James Walker, a music teacher has chosen to hold true to his art. As a result he brought suit today for divorce from his wife Jeanette, whom he married in 1907. Walker is 65 years old, and states in his petition that many of his pupils are young girls and women of whom his wife is jealous. Her jealousy, he declares, so unfit him for his profession and drives so many pupils away that he finally had to choose between separation from his wife and that from his art.

OFFICIALS RAID GAMBLING HOUSES AT MT. CLEMONS

Mt. Clemens, Mich., July 19.—Twelve deputy sheriffs, accompanied by Assistant District Attorney Lawler, last night raided six of the largest gambling houses in Mt. Clemens, getting the names of many prominent persons and confiscating paraphernalia valued at $6000.

The action was taken on order of Gov. Osborne, who has been appealing to repeatedly because of the wholesale gambling at the bath city.

SEARCHING FOR MAINE'S SKELETONS

Work Will be Difficult on Account of Mud and Marine Growth

EXPLOSION OUTSIDE ONE

Frames Supporting Deck Plating Are Bent Upward Which Is Conclusive Proof.

Havana, July 19.—With the berth deck of the demolished battleship Maine partly uncovered, workmen started today on a systematic search for the skeletons of the remaining dead of the crew whose bodies have reposed in the hulk since the night the battleship was blown up.

The work of recovering the skeletons will be difficult as the mud and marine growth is so thick and heavy it will not yield to hydraulics but will have to be dug out with pick, shovel and rake. The scene of the wreckage revealed, now that the water has been pumped to the eighteen foot level is appalling. The entire structure from "frame 18" forward is a twisted mass of shattered steel. It is known that the officers of the wreck believe it to be an easy matter to prove that the initial explosion was an outside one.

The frames which supported the deck plating and planking forward are bent upward and what is believed to have been the flat keel of the Maine curved plainly. It is understood, from the effect of an outside explosion.

The engineers in charge of the work today started the laying of the foundation for the cranes and derricks which are to be used to remove the heavy portions of the wreckage. They are also inspecting the central bulkheads. If the latter are intact they will be closed and the after part of the wreck will be floated.

The cofferdam is holding tight. The stone dumped to straighten the leaky portions has braced the structure so there is now no apparent danger of it collapsing.

The work of getting out the mud which now enshrouds the entire wreckage will prove more costly than was at first anticipated.

OLD GLADIATOR FOR CONGRESS

Boston, July 19.—A proposition that John L. Sullivan be nominated for the legislature is engaging the attention of politicians. The old gladiator has always had an enthusiastic following here and throughout the state, and there can be no doubt that he would make a strong candidate.

TWO CENT RATE LAW GETS JOLT

Springfield, Ill., July 19.—The Illinois two-cent rate law was declared unconstitutional in a report to the United States district court here today. The report is handed down in the case of the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad and it applies only to that road, but it can be made to apply to any road which can show it is not earning 6 per cent on its investment in the passenger department.

WOOL REVISION BILL INTRODUCED

Washington, July 19.—What is called the administration wool revision bill was introduced in the senate today by Senator Smoots of Utah. It represents the views of the regular Republicans and provides rates lower than the existing law, but higher than those in the Underwood and La Follette bills. Its passage is said to be impossible at this session.

EMILIE GRIGSBY, AMERICAN BEAUTY, WHOSE CONQUEST OF ENGLISH SOCIETY CAUSES STIR.

London, July 19.—Emilie Grigsby, the beautiful American girl who was the ward of the late Charles T. Yerkes, has become the center of a great deal of attention here. She has been received most courteously by titled folk, including members of the royal family. Accompanied by Miss Dussan, governess of the children of King George and Queen Mary, she is now visiting in Paris. Miss Grigsby, who inherited a large fortune from Mr. Yerkes, aroused the jealousy of many prominent English people by obtaining a ticket of admission to Westminster Abbey during the coronation ceremony when dozens of important Britishers were refused admission because of lack of room.

Ever since the accidental fall in London some years ago, which, following an operation, left her incurably lame, Miss Grigsby has been super-sensitive as regards the slightest personal comment upon herself. Miss Grigsby's hand has been sought in marriage by at least ten men of wealth and position. One English

SENATOR POMERENE'S REASONS FOR SUPPORTING RECIPROCITY

Washington, D. C., July 19.—Senator Pomerene yesterday sent broadcast throughout Ohio to persons who have written him upon the subject of Canadian reciprocity, a general letter, setting forth his position upon this subject.

In the letter Senator Pomerene says:

"I shall vote for this bill because I believe it will be for the best interests of the farmers of the whole country. My objection to it is that it does not go far enough. I favor absolute free trade with Canada. Here is a kindred people, with like habits, environments, and ambitions. No more harm will result from a free exchange of products between the United States and Canada than from a free exchange of products between Ohio and Iowa. I do not believe that this bill will materially change the price of farm products. The benefits to be expected from it will be from freer trade relations, the steadying of the market, and from the fact that it will lead, ultimately, to free trade between the countries."

The senator then discusses at some length the subject of prices. He then goes on to point out the manner in which the farmers of the country have been deceived by protection for years, and to advocate as a means of doing real justice to the farmer, the removal of the duty on the things which he is obliged to buy instead of feeding and fostering the manufacturer in the future as we have in the past, by excessive rates.

BITTERNESS OF SENATORS RENEWED IN FIGHT FOR A CONFEDERATE NAVAL MONUMENT

Washington, July 19.—The bitterness between Senator Heyburn of Idaho and Senator Williams of Mississippi on the subject of the confederate battle on anew in the senate yesterday. Senator Heyburn objected to the taking up of a bill appropriating $100,000 for a Confederate naval monument in the Vicksburg Military Park, but Senator Williams won consideration by a vote of 29 to 19.

The Vicksburg Park Commission and the senate committee on military affairs had approved the measure and Mr. Williams said it was desired to have the monument complete for the semi-centennial blue and gray reunion at Vicksburg in 1914. Senator Cummins of Iowa and Senator Work of California urged its passage.

Senator Heyburn again attacked the principle of federal recognition of Confederate acts, and Senator Williams abruptly left the chamber when he began to speak.

Mr. Heyburn declared it was intolerable that the deeds of Confederate armies could be recited in laws that call upon the public treasury for contributions. He characterized the history of the war between the states as a history of murder. He attacked the newspapers of the country, declaring many of them disloyal, and delighted to express their disloyalty. He had been characterized as waging the bloody flag in the senate, he said, and had been so misinterpreted that he was receiving scores of anonymous letters from cowards threatening him with physical violence because of his opposition to the use of government funds to recognize confederate service.

Senator Heyburn displayed a letter he had received from Little Rock, Ark., the envelope of which bore a representation of the confederate flag. He said the postoffice authorities said there was no law to prevent the use of the flag on mail matter.

"No law ought to be needed," said Senator Heyburn, "there is but one flag in the nation entitled to such representation."

Senator Smoot of Utah moved once to adjourn, but his motion was defeated, 24 to 27.

Senator Taylor of Tennessee took up the confederate issue.

"The war is over," he said, "time has pulled down the forts and healed the wounds. The men who wore the gray delight to honor the men

BULLETS MOW DOWN VICTIMS

Ten Men Shot in Battle With Cleveland Strikers

RUNNING FIGHT IN AUTOS

Loaded With Strikers and Guards Results in Riddling Many Houses.

Cleveland, O., July 19.—Garment strikers and strikebreakers' guards battled with shotguns last night when racing down a dark street in two automobiles that were turned into flying forts.

Ten men at least—and the police say more—were shot.

The hundred shots fired menaced the lives of the inhabitants of Kennedy avenue, drilled the walls of houses and shattered windows.

All the police in the East End were unloaded into the riot section and a patrolman was stationed every few yards along Kennedy avenue and East Ninety-third street to remain until this morning.

One large touring car, filled with a dozen strikebreakers' guards, escorting a garment strikebreaker home from his perilous job, came racing at a high speed up to the corner of Kennedy avenue and East Ninety-third street. After it had passed under an arc light—the sole illuminant of that section of the street—those in the tonneau looked back and saw another touring car, loaded with strikers and sympathizers, loom into the light, pursuing them.

Those in the strikebreakers' car looked back and the big touring machine in the rear seemed to gain. Suddenly a shotgun rang out.

The report was followed by a fusillade, while men in each car urged the chauffeur to even more desperate speed.

The flash of the guns and the uncertain beams of the headlights of the cars alone gave the marksmen their light.

When shots tore into the houses on the street bystanders fell, shot. The windows in the homes were broken and the inmates rushed out in terror.

A general call was sent in for ambulances.

The first victim to reach a hospital was Louis Kalana, 2617 East Ninety-sixth street. He was drenched with blood. When surgeons had him on the operating table they found that his left arm and his left leg were shattered.

Between his moans Kalana told a disjointed tale of the battle. He said that he was a striker and had been employed before the strike as a tailor by the H. Black Company. He was on guard, he said, before the home of Ole Kafa, on Kennedy avenue, where strikers were patrolling the block in an automobile.

Suddenly, he said, they opened fire on him and his companions. Then the people rushed out of the houses and 100 shots were fired. He could not remember any more.

PLEADED GUILTY.

Kansas City, July 19.—Jack Love, left fielder for the local American Association baseball club, pleaded guilty today to having assaulted Edward W. Cochran of the Kansas City Journal and was fined $10.

Love assaulted Cochran after accusing Cochran of criticizing him unduly in print.

DIAMOND PIN SENT TO PUBLIC STORE FOR APPRAISAL

New York, July 19.—A $15,000 diamond studded breastpin worn by Mrs. August Belmont, formerly Eleanor Robson, the actress, was taken from her when she arrived on the Olympic today and sent to the public store for appraisal. Customs officials said that the pin had never been properly declared.

TAFT CANCELS ENGAGEMENT

Washington, July 19.—On account of the long session of congress, President Taft today cancelled all arrangements for his trip to Houghton, Mich., Aug. 15, where he expected to spend several days yachting on the Great Lakes. He also declined an invitation to a Republican banquet at Cleveland Aug. 1.

WERDER BLEW UP IN SIXTH LOSING GAME

HOW THE CLUBS STAND. Table with columns: Club, Won, Lost, Pct.

TODAY'S GAMES. Newark at Grand Rapids. Terre Haute at Evansville.

TOMORROW'S GAMES. Newark at Zanesville. Grand Rapids at Wheeling.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 19.—Except for the presence of a big hoodoo in the sixth inning, Newark played first-class ball on the Grand Rapids lot yesterday afternoon, and out of a total score of 8 to 3, six of the victor's tallies were chalked up in that one wild session.

At that stage of the game he was replaced by Gilbert. With the sacks choked, Wheeler got his awful three-bagger which led the game for the home team. Gilbert's work was an improvement, but came too late. Smith, for the home team stuck to the finish and his foolers were always reliable.

In the first of the contest, it looked like a repetition of Monday's result. Each team connected once with the rubber in the first frame. The visitors led out with another in the second and were equalled by an additional tally for the home team in the third. The remainder consisted of goose-eggs excepting the sixth, where Newark located but a single count. On the whole the exhibition of baseball put up by the visitors was gilt-edged, holding remarkably well the powerful offense of the Grand Rapids team. The score:

The team will leave this afternoon immediately after the game for Zanesville.

CLUB FOR SALE.

Boston, July 19.—Rumors of the sale of the Boston American club have been stopped at the office of the president, John I. Taylor, with the statement that, while there was a price for the club, no one has yet met it. It was admitted, however, that certain parties had asked regarding that price.

TROUBLES ON THE HAMILTON TEAM

Hamilton, O., July 19.—The Directors of the Hamilton Baseball club yesterday handed Manager Jimmy Barton his release. Manager Barton claims he has a contract to manage the Hamilton team for the season of 1911 and refused to accept the release, or a check given him for his salary to date, claiming the club owes him $875. The Directors claim they have the right to release Barton by virtue of the club's organization. Infielder Frank Locke was made temporary manager. While the release of Manager Barton comes as a surprise to the fans, it has been whispered around in inner circles for some time. Barton's ability as a player is unquestioned by the Directors, but they felt that something had to be done to try and stop the Ham's losing streak. Speaking of Frank Locke Barton said: "Locke is a good man. He will make a good manager."

HANOVER WINS DOUBLE-HEADER

The Hanover White Sox won two games, the first one with the Hanover Scrubs. The game was cut to seven innings on account of second game scores:

Hanover. AB. H. PO. A. E. Table with player statistics.

The Newark Pirates played Hanover the second game, the latter defeating them by the score of 8 to 2. The features of the game was Walter Willey's home run and McArthur's pitching, striking out 21 men and only allowed 3 hits. This makes Hanover 13 games won and 3 lost. Would like to have a game July 30 with some good team. Scores:

LADY MINSTRELS HAVING TROUBLES REGARDING SALARY

Nicholas Criticos on Tuesday afternoon, through Attorney Joseph Horner, attached a number of trunks and boxes belonging to the Raymond Steward minstrel show. On a hearing to dissolve the attachment it was shown that he had attached the property of the wrong parties, as Mr. Becker, who claimed to be the manager of the company and who had made the contract with Criticos, appeared at the Auditorium this week had no property to be attached and the company was not to be blamed in any way. The company refused to play for Mr. Becker unless he would pay them $250 which he owned for last week's salaries. Criticos claimed damages in the sum of $300 for non-fulfillment of contract, but the attachment was dismissed. A. S. Mitchell and C. L. Flory represented the show company.

Bladder Trouble Causes Terrible Pains.

After taking a trial bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which you forwarded to me, I purchased some from a local drug store and after using three dollar bottles I can truthfully say that I was cured of all the terrible pains I had in my back, side and head, caused by bladder trouble. I had the worse kind of kidney trouble and suffered so that I could not even stay in bed with the pain. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root made me feel just like a new person and am glad to recommend it to anyone suffering as I did.

Very truly yours, MISS MARY ARDNER, Defiance, Ohio.

Sworn to before me and in my presence subscribed by the said Miss Mary Ardner, this 16th day of July, 1909. F. L. RAY, Notary Public.

GRIFFITH MAY CONTINUE THE REDS LEADER

(By C. H. Zuber.) Cincinnati, July 19.—New faces are always welcome on a ball team, especially when there is a prospect that the rest of the corporeality that goes with the physiognomy is sufficiently imbued with talent to improve the aggregation with which it appears.

Consequently, when the Reds come home on Sunday, July 23, to meet those hustling Cardinals, they will be greeted by an audience of who the majority mentions, because they will offer two new faces, entirely new faces and several others who have not been seen much in action since they joined the Reds and who seem destined to get a show to demonstrate their worth in this society. The debutantes, so far as the local lot is concerned, will be: Pitcher Humphries, secured from Philadelphia in a trade for Fred Beck; Shortstop Grieves, a sensational youngster from the Hamilton, Ont., club, and Pitcher Juul, a western collegian who was annexed to the Reds after Chicago had dropped him.

There is also a prospect that Pitcher McHale of the Boston Americans will be with the Reds when they reach home again. The injury to Tom Clarke in Chicago last week makes it pretty certain that Hank Severid, the young catcher, will be seen behind the bat, while the Cubans, Marsans and Almeida, also are being groomed for an early break into the lineup. Altogether the Reds' home coming will be rather an interesting event to the fans, who want to see the team properly bolstered up with new talent.

The guessing bug has been extremely busy for some weeks, with the Reds' leadership for next season as its victim. For some reason or other the critics have decided that Manager Griffith will not head the local aggregation next season and so have started out to do the Cincinnati club a favor by finding a successor to the Montana cattle king. Among those mentioned are Tommy Leach of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Shueckard, Joe Tinker and Johnny Evers of the Chicago Cubs, Kid Gleason, formerly of the Phillies, and John Gangel, who handled the team some years ago. Meanwhile the owners are not discussing this phase of the situation, but are relying upon Griffith to advise them in all the moves they are making for strengthening the team now and for next season. Which would indicate that the present boss may be in command again next year.

At this writing there is no telling who will battle for the world's championship next October. In the American League the Detroit and Athletics are having a merry little squabble as to who shall lead the race. Naturally, in view of the manner in which the Athletics came from behind to their present high standing and on the strength of winning the world's championship last year with practically the same talent that is doing battle this year, they are slight favorites over the Detroit. In the National League the fight is more open, no less than five teams being in the hunt for the flag, with no special favorite for the first position.

With New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Pittsburgh and St. Louis bunched so that chances in standing occur almost daily, it is any man's fight for the flag at this writing. There may be one or two eliminations between now and the first of August, but at present the battle seems to be a pretty even proposition.

We had to send another Englishman back to his native heath some days ago with the buzzing of the world's lightweight championship belt temporarily settled in his bonnet. It was Ad Wolgast, the American lightweight, who subdued the ambitions of the British Owen Moran, and did it effectively, too, for there was no doubt at any period of the battle that the American had it on the fighter from Albion's shores. However, Moran declared that he was not satisfied. He insists that he was trained too fine and therefore could not do himself justice. He wants another whack at Wolgast and probably will get it, provided Ad still is champion after his battle with Freddie Welch on Thanksgiving Day the details of which are now being arranged.

Ireland will be the scene of the next battle for the heavyweight championship, Jack Johnson having signified articles to fight Paddy Curran 20

GASOLINE LAUNCH THAT DARES TRANSATLANTIC TRIP AND HER CAPTAIN

New York, July 19.—Captain John Weller of Carlstadt, N. J., has started in his fifty foot gasoline propeller boat Romania on a voyage from Jamaica Bay, New York, to Europe. Captain Miller hoisted the club flag at the Romania's masthead before he started, and he swore and made his crew of five men swear that the boat should either carry the flag across the Atlantic to some European port or it should sink with the ship. The Romania is fifty feet over all, twelve feet beam and three feet draft. Captain Miller's mate and assistant navigator is Captain Small. They go from here to Bridgeport, thence to Newport, Providence, St. John's and Halifax, from which point they take their departure for Queenstown.

ANNUAL CHECKER TOURNAMENT AT CEDAR POINT

There probably never was a time when checkers was so popular in Ohio as well as other states as now. This is due to the long hours of practice upon the devotees of the "silent game" in preparation for the annual checker tournament to be held at Cedar Point on Lake Erie during the week commencing August 6. The meeting will be held under the direction of the Ohio Checker association, organized for the purpose of promoting and keeping lean this fascinating game, that calls to active use all the reasoning facilities of the mind. In addition to the gathering of Ohio players during the above week interest is centered in the match games to be played between Newell W. Banks, champion of America, and Alfred Jordan, champion of England. This checker game will be a contest between America's best player and England's representative of the game of draughts. The contest between Banks and Jordan will commence on Monday afternoon and continue for five days. A cash prize of several hundred dollars will be contested for and Jordan's return to Europe was delayed until next September upon the promise of a meeting with the young American champion. Banks will not only meet the English player but will also engage in games in cross board play with a number of the best players of the state. One evening will be devoted to an exhibition of simultaneous blindfold play, when he will undertake to defeat several Ohio checker players blindfolded in this blindfold simultaneous game.

Banks calls into play no small amount of patience to investigate accurately the consequences attending every move, courage to act promptly, and bear with equanimity the reverses sustained in his competition with skillful players, and no small amount of courtesy which implies forbearance and recognition of equal rights and advantages in adversaries, and memory to retain the exact position of every "man" on the board in full view of the player but which he cannot see on account of his blindfold.

Heart and Home Talks

By Barbara Boyd

Simple Talks on Health.

Keeping Young.

A HURDY-GURDY was playing a popular air. Children were clustered about it; some, dancing on the sidewalk. But the older people hurried by, intent on the business in hand.

The seductive tune rose on the quiet summer night, and the children's voices and laughter and the trip of their little feet blended with it to make a harmony that set visions of dancing through the brain. But the older people hurried by with never a thought or a look.

Why shouldn't the lilt of that music have set the feet of eighty to dancing as well as the feet of eight—or if not exactly to dancing, for that might have caused a mob, so hard and fast are our ideas of what becomes eighty, brought them at any rate, to a pause, their blood thrilling to the music and the night and the children's laughter? To be sure, a hurdy-gurdy is not an orchestra. But it isn't only the music itself that sets the children to dancing. It's the heart of youth that finds joy in it. Why can't we have the heart of youth that joys simply in life and motion, that feels the lilt of the melody even though it may be slightly flattened, into whose blood like wine enters the intoxicating softness of the summer night? Why can't we keep this, and add to it the memories and experiences that come with years?

This little street scene, for instance, brings to mind Tolstoy's account of a night in Lucerne, with all his wonderful description of snowy mountains and supple lake and the wondrous music of a wandering minstrel. Children have no such memories as these. They live only in the moment. But the older person watching them can thrill to the music and their laughter, yet bring to memory this other picture, different and yet alike, and so double his pleasure in the present.

The trouble is we fail to keep young. We close our hearts to these impressions. We hurry by music and children and flowers and sky, our minds absorbed in wondering what the stock market will be tomorrow, or whether our new gown will be done in time for the dance at the club, or if Mrs. So and So is going to invite us for a week-end. The spirit of youth is driven out, and if it tries to return, it finds closed doors. It may be necessary occasionally to think upon these things, but we needn't close our mind and heart to all else.

We have all eternity to live, so why begin to grow old yet? Why grow old at all? Why not keep the heart of youth that rejoices in life and motion and color and all that is beautiful and joyous, and add to it the riper experiences of the years as they pass. Let them interpret youth, but do not let them drive it away.

Youth is a state of mind. It isn't a matter of white hair and stiff joints. It will stay with us if we bid it welcome. So why not open our hearts to it, enjoy life to its full, and forget the record in the family Bible?

And if we open our heart to youth and keep young mentally, it will help us physically. Our bodies will keep young longer. When the blood courses buoyantly through it, joints do not get stiff, nor the system clogged with the impurities that bring languor, inertia, and dullness. So aside from the greater richness keeping young mentally gives life, it adds to the physical joy in living.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burch, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Burch, Miss Rachel Burch, Mrs. Martha Long, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Briggs and daughter Ottilie. The out of town guests were Mrs. Fred Bliss and little daughter and son Janet and Gerald of Columbus. Mr. Burch was the recipient of many pretty and useful presents. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation and music after which all departed for their homes wishing Mr. Burch many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. George Glaussinger of Maple avenue will be hostess to the Ladies' diversion club, Thursday afternoon from 2 o'clock until 5.

Miss Margaret Bennett delightfully entertained a few girl friends on Tuesday afternoon, at her home in North Fourth street, honoring Miss Mabelle Soliday, whose wedding will be an event of the near future. The affair was in the nature of a cleverly planned miscellaneous shower. The bride-elect was completely surprised but she soon recovered her composure and acted the part of honored guest in the most charming manner. Miss Soliday received numerous beautiful and useful gifts.

During the afternoon an attractive cook-book was compiled by the guests which was presented to the bride-elect with the hope that it will prove itself very useful. Dainty refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Those present to wish Miss Soliday all happiness and prosperity during her wedded life were: Misses Daisy Harrington, Winona Pickering, Marie Bolin, Ruth Weaver, Lucille Vail, Ida Davis, Martha Hartshorn, Della Davis, Florence Patterson, Anna Brown, Lydia King, Jessie Bartholomew, Elizabeth King, Grace Sines, Jane and Sara Bennett, Mrs. Jos. Cabbage Soup. Remove the outer leaves of a medium sized summer cabbage and cut the head into strips. Cover with two quarts of boiling water and boil for half an hour. In a saucepan put one tablespoonful of butter and two tablespoonfuls of flour and stir over the fire until well mixed; add

A COMFORTABLE CLIMBING SUIT FOR THE MOUNTAINS.
The girl who wears one of these simple khaki suits will have a royal good time on tramping and climbing excursions, for there will be nothing to tear, catch in briars, or get muddled and untidy. The suit includes the short, well fitted skirt, divided under the panel at the front, and the loose, middy blouse. Gaiters of tan cloth are worn beneath the skirt and meet knee-length knickers of pongee. The loose blouse is made smart and attractive by a collar of white flannel and a soft silk tie.

gradually one pint and a half of scalded milk and one quart of the water in which the cabbage was boiled. Season to taste with salt and pepper, simmer for ten minutes, add one cupful of the cooked cabbage chopped fine, simmer for ten minutes and serve with croutons.

Peach Snow. Soak one-half of a box of gelatine in one cupful of cold water until soft. Boil together for five minutes one cupful of water, take from the fire and add the gelatine. Stir until dissolved, strain and add one and one-half cupfuls of peach pulp, prepared by rubbing the pared peaches through a fine sieve. Set aside, stirring occasionally until the mixture is quite thick. Whip the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth, add by degrees the jelly mixture, and continue to whip until the whole mass is very stiff. Pour into a mold wet in cold water, and set on ice until firm enough to turn out.

FORTY MAKES OF AUTOS PASS THROUGH CITY

Forty cars of as many different makes passed through Newark yesterday afternoon, thirty-eight of them competing in the Cleveland News reliability contest. The first car arrived at 2:15 and placed at intervals of about five minutes, the procession was two hours in passing the city. Fifteen reached Newark with perfect records in spite of the difficult roads traversed. The cars and drivers were covered with dust from the long ride, many picturesque costumes being used to keep out the dirt, including sunbonnets and a variety of blouses and peculiar goggles. A large crowd of spectators watched the procession, each driver stopping near the Hotel Warden to check in. The first one to reach Columbus just five minutes after scheduled time. The contestants left Columbus this morning on their way to Cleveland, where they conclude the last part of the triangular course.

There were about 100 people in the entire party. Among these is Mrs. E. C. Wood, wife of the president of the Cleveland Auto Club, who is the only woman driver in the party. Mrs. Wood is a native of this city and is credited on account of her enthusiasm for the sport of driving. She is a former driver in the race at the Glenview, who won the Glenview race in 1910, and Howard Bauer of Chicago, who finished the Glenview tour of 1908 with a perfect record.

Mr. Bauer is the youngest driver in the contest, and although but 20 years of age, has been driving the Oakland for more than three years.

The road through Wheeling presents many obstacles, it being selected particularly on account of the difficulties. Each car carries an observer who checks points against the machine when any leak or fault in the mechanism occurs. The trophy is to be presented by the Cleveland News.

FLESH-FORMING FOOD.

When you buy a package of Samose, the great, flesh-forming food, weigh yourself and see how much weight you gain in the first week's use. W. A. Brannan & Son will tell of many of their customers who a month or so ago were thin, pale and haggard, but who are now, through the use of Samose, plump, strong and happy, with perfect health and attractive flesh. They have seen so many instances of the wonderful power of Samose to restore the weak and sick to strength and health, and to make good natural flesh that they give their personal guarantee with every package of Samose they sell to refund the money if it does not prove satisfactory.

Samose is a pure preparation and can be used with absolute confidence by the most delicate. It gives remarkable results with children who are weak and run down and without appetite. It builds up the thin, pale, puny girl and woman to perfect plumpness and health. It is the only flesh-forming food of its kind, and in addition, it strengthens every organ of the body, restoring strength and health to the whole system.

VERY MOUNTAINOUS.

Miss Henrietta was not a sylph by any means, but she prided herself upon the neatness of her well rounded figure, and when she appeared on the hotel veranda one summer day with a cluster of white ox-eye daisies pinned against crisp freshness of her green linen frock, gallant old Colonel Floyd was moved to make her a pretty speech.

"What charming posies!" he remarked with a Chesterfieldian bow. They suit you exactly. You look like a Virginia hillside."

He was mystified at the frigidity with which Miss Henrietta received his bit of homage.—Youth's Companion.

NEWARK SALOONISTS FILE SUITS IN THE U. S. SUPREME COURT

Columbus, July 19.—Newark saloonists today filed suits in the U. S. supreme court at Washington to test the right of the state of Ohio to collect the $1000 Dowe, Allen saloon tax in dry territory. The Ohio supreme court upheld this right and about 50 saloonists in Licking county stood liable for its payment.

This Is "CN Week"

CN not only cures but Prevents

The only cleaning that really cleans is the cleaning that disinfects. Most of us have bad house-cleaning habits. We sweep, thinking we clean, whereas sweeping simply transposes dirt from one place to another, polluting the air besides. CN used in your every cleaning operation kills germs, destroys odors, purifies the air—three things which make for health. Do not wait until disease comes before using CN—use it to-day and make disease an absentee in your home.

Your home is "disease proof" if cleaned regularly with CN

This seems a big statement to make, but it stands to reason that if powerful CN can destroy every particle of dirt by simply pouring a few drops into your cleaning water, no disease can enter your home, for it is this dirt—this very filth that "soap and water" and so-called cleansers miss, where disease breeds.

The great lesson to be learned in connection with CN Disinfectant, is to use it before trouble comes, and not wait until after it has arrived.

CN is a disinfectant that disinfects. It possesses the power to purify as nothing else will or can.

CN is guaranteed to be five to six times stronger than pure carbolic acid, yet it is non-poisonous and non-combustible.

FACTS AS TO COMING PRIMARY ELECTIONS

Will be Held September 5---Petitions of Candidates Must be Filed by August 6.

The primary elections of both political parties
are held on the same day.

The primaries this year will be held on Tuesday,
September 5.

All petitions of candidates for the primaries
must be filed with the Board of Elections by August
5. (The exact date will be August 6, but that comes on Sunday.)

This is the ruling which has been sent out by the Attorney General.

Persons who desire to have their names on the primary ballot must have their petitions signed and filed by that time.

Petitions of candidates must contain signatures
equal to 2 per cent of the party vote in county, municipality, township or ward.

The basis of percentage in each case shall be the vote of the party in such county, municipality, precinct, ward or other political subdivision for governor at the last preceding election for state offices.

DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE MEETING JULY 29

At the last meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee on July 1, adjournment was had until Saturday, July 29, at which meeting attention will be given to ascertain whether in the various townships,
wards and precincts petitions for nominations have been filed with the County Board of Elections for the several officers to be elected the present year.

It appears from the testimony of Edward Hines that the administration was anxious to have Lorimer elected to the United States Senate; the administration needed friends, or imagined it did, and was quite willing that all efforts should be put forth to get the $100,000 senator seated. Senators Aldrich and Penrose played the go-between in the unsavory scandal
that has placed a lasting stigma on
the greatest legislative body in the world.
Lorimer's record was known. He had been a political boss and wire-puller,
like his champion, Senator Penrose, for years. There was no excuse for the administration to lend its moral support to his entrance into the senate,
leaving out of question altogether the questionable methods employed to that end.

Republicans in Ohio have followed the lead of Republicans at Washington, whose extravagance has made the federal government the most expensive
one in the world. Having compelled Ohio taxpayers to pay extortionate tax rates the g. o. p. machine is now fighting a low tax rate. Not a single word of complaint has been uttered by a taxpayer against the low rate. Many Republican officers in Ohio cities are opposing it.

Guggenheim deplores the government probing into the trusts as a direct cause of industrial apathy. The country is going to Greece and his horde as a consequence, says Guggenheim. Perhaps the decision of the interior department cutting off that $500,- 000,000 Cunningham-Guggenheim Alaska coal grab may have warped the gentleman's judgment somewhat. The loss of half a billion in prospect is something to be prieved at.

When the State Tax Commission
makes public its valuations on the properties of public utilities, that crowd
of Republican office holders who have been fighting a low tax rate will close up like oysters. Nothing more will be heard from them. When the valuation on all classes of property are finally announced and the work on the tax duplicate is completed, it will be discovered that the Smith law is workable. The trouble is that a few fellows who would rather work to make the low tax rate law a failure than to make it a success, were too early in their castigations of the measure. Mayor Herman Baehr of Cleveland will wake up to discover that he made a colored mouse of himself. There is enough money on deposit in the banks
at Cleveland to make the Smith law workable.

One of the most important steps yet
taken by an officer in the State Democratic administration, was that at Cedar Point recently when State Dairy
and Food Commissioner Strode obtained the unanimous co-operation of city and county sealers and weights
and measures to assist him in a campaign which he is about to make to eliminate false weights and measures
in the State of Ohio, and to have every dealer use standard appliances. If this is done the Ohio consumer will be saved many thousands of dollars a year.
Never before has such a perfect organization been perfected to prevent unscrupulous dealers defrauding the Ohio consumer. The dealers will not be harassed. The sealers will advise them how to operate under the law.
They will be given every opportunity to avoid paying fines.

AN INDIAN BALLAD.

In her wigwam, neat and small, pretty Little Yellow Shawl sat
a-dreaming of her lover, who had gone away to school—brave and stalwart Twisted Nose, son of Ringbones-on-his-Toes, who could whip his weight his hob-cobs, who could ride a bucking mule. (Chorus:
Oh, the noble Twisted Nose was a terror to his foes till the pale-face came and told him that an Injun was a fool, if he was content to fight; he should learn to read and write; so the maiden's stalwart lover left her side and went to school.) Now she hears her lover's call! "Oh, my darling Yellow Shawl, let me take you to my bosom, for you are my one best bet!" But she shuddered and she sighed! "Push yourself away," she cried, for he wore a crimson necktie and he smoked a cigarette! "You loved when bold and rude, but they've made of you a dude, with your noisy lemon trousers and your dinky rah-rah lid! Never more shall Yellow Shawl come to greet you at your call, she will never be your honey or your little kaydid!" (Chorus: Oh, the noble Twisted Nose went and pawned his rah-rah clothes, and he wears a rusty blanket and a streak of purple paint, and to little Yellow Shawl he'll be married in the fall, and he happy ever after in his wigwam queer and quaint.) Alarums and excursions.

WICKERSHAM SCANDAL TO BE PROBED

Delegate Wickersham's charges against Attorney General Wickersham
are perhaps the most serious that have been advanced against any member of President Taft's official family. The Alaskan delegate directly alleges that the attorney general deliberately shielded from prosecution men against whom there was adequate criminal evidence. There are no qualifications in Delegate Wickersham's statements.
They are straight from the shoulder.
Attorney General Wickersham should welcome the investigation which is assured.

Coupled with Delegate Wickersham's
charges is the further statement that there was submitted to the department of justice more than a year ago evidence of an alleged bribing of a United States district attorney by the Kataela company, one of the organizations in the Alaska syndicate. "I have evidence," declared Delegate Wickersham, "that $3,000 was used to bribe a deputy district attorney."

To make matters worse Gifford Pinchot has issued a statement sustaining the charges made by Miss M.
F. Abbott, a writer that vital records relating to the Guggenheim activities
in Alaska have disappeared from the War Department.

Said Mr. Pinchot: "As soon as Stimson became Secretary of War I took up this Controller Bay matter with him, because I had hopes that there might yet be time to save the public's interest and the war department might have power to block the proceeding."
"Miss Abbott had come to me, told of her investigations, and stated that she had seen this apparently pre-dated
map. Its significance was apparent to me, as it was to her."

"I went at once, at her request, to the war department to see it for myself. Mr. Stimson went with me to examine it, and he will remember it.
It showed an amended location of the railway across the tide flats at Controller Bay, with a plat of ground along the deepwater edge which was taken for wharves, docks, slips, tracks,
etc. The map was labeled as approved by an assistant secretary, Mr. Oliver,
as I recollect it."

The disappearance of this map, together with the disappearance of an alleged "Dick to Dick" letter, written by Richard S. Ryan to Richard A. Ballinger, bringing President Taft and Charles P. Taft, his brother, into the Controller Bay scandal, threw doubt about the story of their existence told
by Miss Abbott.

Mr. Pinchot's testimony as to the existence of the map is confirmatory in part of Miss Abbott's statements, and arouses renewed interest in the now
famous "Dick-to-Dick" letter.

Hereafter owners of tangible property, including farmers and small home owners, will have no cause to complain that the railroad companies operating in Ohio are not paying their portion of the tax burden. The State Tax Commission, appointed by Governor Harmon, is proceeding on the theory that the property of railroad companies shall, like all other property, be appraised at its true value
as required by the constitution. When the tax commissioners conclude their
work of appraising railroad property,
the valuation will be $350,000,000 in excess of what they were in 1910.
Farmers and small home owners in every county in the state will be benefitted by these increases. The more
the railroads pay the less they will pay.
And no injustice is being imposed on the railroads either. In the past they have been favored. Under the new valuations they are given no advantage over the owners of small property,
and there is no injustice about that.

On account of the neglect of Former State Treasurer Green to file a proof of loss with the Massachusetts
Bonding company, the commonwealth
will lose $4,500 interest on a claim for $25,000 which it had against this concern. It was a small matter to prepare and file a proof of loss, but Treasurer Green was too busy oiling
the cogs in the Republican state political machine to take care of the state's business. That was a chronic ailment with all former Republican state officers.

Senators Trying to Tell What Is What in Politics.

SPLIT ON RECIPROCITY BILL.

Bailey and Heyburn Use Cowboy Vernacular in Colloquy About Republican Mutineers—"Dog Day" in the House Leads to Long Debate on Rights of Canine Pets.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 19.—[Special.]—
"What is a Republican?" and "Who are Democrats?" were questions
which have agitated members of the senate for a long time. On several days the debate has been confined largely to settling these disturbing
questions, with the result that more doubt than ever exists. One day
when the subject was uppermost Senator Nelson asked Heyburn how the head of the Republican party could be educated and brought back into the Republican fold.

"Who is the leader and head of the Republican party?" asked the Idaho
senator.

The talk also turned upon the question as to whether the reciprocity bill,
supported by nearly all the Democrats and upon which the Republicans
were nearly equally divided, but having been proposed by a Republican president, was a Republican or Democratic measure. And that question remains unsettled.

Cattle Vernacular.

A little later Bailey and Heyburn
had a colloquy over mutiny in the Republican party. In which cowboy terms were used. "Mavericks" was Heyburn's term for the Republicans
who had strayed from his idea of Republicanism. Bailey suggested a "roundup" at the White House, when
all might be "branded."

Vice President Sherman has done
something that none of his predecessors was ever known to do. He sits and reads newspapers while senators are debating. Why no senator has called attention to this innovation is strange, for it certainly encroaches on senatorial dignity.

"Dog Days" in the House.

There are certain days in summer
designated "dog days," and everybody understands why. Perhaps that accounts for a "dog day" in the house of representatives. Now we all know that while the senate has been debating at great length the various tariff
bills the house has been adjourning
from time to time, doing absolutely nothing to the best of its ability.
Then came a day when a tariff bill
was reported and passed which everybody wanted. It provided that where animals strayed or were taken across the border they might be returned without the payment of duty.

That was all right until Fitzgerald
of New York raised the question of a society Pomeranian which had been compelled to pay duty at the New York custom house, and then there was a regular dog discussion of several hours.

Look a Wide Range.

Of course there was the customary
reference to "yellow dogs," "brindle
pups," and suggestions as to sausage
and frankfurters. Payne and Fitzgerald had a pleasant wrangle about the defense of the dog, and Hughes of New Jersey clipped in a few words.

Uncle Joe Cannon, who never feels quite satisfied unless he has "rid something, got started and had to have his time extended several times before he concluded his say. Sims of Tennessee,
without reference to the dog discussion,
caused the reading of a patriotic speech
of a grandson of former Speaker Bell,
and Cannon pointed out that this
grandson was a railroad attorney,
which rattled Sims and brought Roddenberry of Georgia forward with a defense of Sims and incidentally returned the discussion to dogs. He demanded that the coon dog, the possum dog and the rabbit dog should be placed on an equality with the high
bred dogs of the idle rich.

When Norris Got "In Bad."

It was Norris of Nebraska who told the most interesting dog story. He had been invited to address an audience and found it composed of young men of Washington. He urged manhood and marriage. He said he had seen a wealthy woman neglect her child to take care of a poodle dog and designated the place so definitely that she was identified. His speech went over the country, and his mail was filled with letters of denunciation from owners of poodle dogs.

Norris said that he hoped the pending bill favored poodle dogs, as it gave him an opportunity of going on record
as doing something for them in order to "avert the catastrophe which I fear
is about to fall on my troubled head
from the avenging wrath of the owners of these animals."

All of the discussion bears out the remark of John Sharp Williams when minority leader in the house. "We are boys grown up," he remarked after a few hours of frivolous talk.

Has a Literary Son.

The new minority leader has a literary son. Young James Mann has written several articles and stories
which have been accepted by the magazines. He cares more for literature
than for politics.

THE CORN CROP.

It is too early to figure upon the corn crop. That is, the making of the corn is only begun. A good many things could happen between now
and the gathering of the crop to cause it to be less than is expected.
But even at this early date the statisticians are figuring upon the probable yield, and as usual the figures are astounding. They are based upon average yields, of course, and upon acreage, and if the law of averages holds good this year, we shall see a four billion bushel crop, we are assured.

Last year the crop amounted to 3,125,713,000 bushels. It was valued at a little more than a billion and a half dollars—more than enough to pay off the national debt. Last year's crop was the largest raised in any one year up to that time.

The corn crop of the entire world
last year was a little more than four billion bushels, the United States raising three-fourths of it. There is to be, according to the predictions, a larger crop this year in all countries
where corn is raised, but the United States is still expected to show a three-fourths production of the entire yield.

Despite the continued increase in the yield, however, there is no danger whatever of an over supply. New uses are being found for corn every day. Its consumption is increasing more rapidly than is the yield, and
the end of the demand is not in sight. For, the truth is, when the real value of corn is known of all mankind, there will be such a demand for it that the corn land of the world will not begin to supply
the demand.

TELL TIME
OF DAY BY
THE BAND

Circus Employees Keep Close Tab on
the Brass Organization Headed By Prof. Martin.

A clock without hands, dial or pendulum and one that is never wound is rather extraordinary but nevertheless one exists, and the people with the John Robinson Ten Big Shows always note the time of day by this peculiar timepiece. It is the circus band by which they ascertain
the various hours as they fleet by.
At the same time every day throughout the season, Professor Martin and his band of 40 soloists play the same selections, and by this means, performers and employees govern their actions.

The men in the cookhouse and culinary departments always gauge their work by the music tunes played by the band. The music, wafted across the show grounds from the massive tent in which the performance is giving, is the only clock they know during the summer season. Every activity and every feature on the program
has its special music for accompaniment
and when the Minerva Sisters are in the dome of the big tent, flitting
from trapeze to trapeze, the stirring trains of the band inform every attache on all parts of the ground that the performance is but half
over.

When the races are announced, a lively march is the cue, and every one knows that soon the crowds will be pouring out of the various exits
and so it goes on the entire day and evening, the only timepiece known being the circus band.

A peculiar fact is that this clock
is invariably correct, for the routine
as carried out by the management is a wonderful exhibition of organization, and but very few seconds each day vary the various things that go to make up the day's order of affairs.

This season the musical director of the John Robinson circus has outlined a series of concerts which will be given daily before the afternoon and evening performances. A list of the latest musical successes
will be played and several characteristic circus melodies will be a feature of every program. The music interpolations throughout the entire circus program have been arranged
with the idea of pleasing every appetite for music.

The concerts, together with the Congress of Clowns before each performance are novelties exclusive with John Robinson's circus and spectators should be early on the grounds
to see the John Robinson circus will be in Newark next Monday. The show is the largest one coming and will spend Sunday in the city.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The First Independence Day A Lively One

W. JONES
Shots on First Fourth
Were Meant to Kill

"I WONDER if you children know why we celebrate the Fourth of July?" asked daddy as the children finished a long account of what they and their little friends meant to do on the coming Independence day.

"Why, because it's the Fourth of July," Jack replied wisely.

"Because isn't a reason," objected daddy. "I suppose I shall have to tell you. Well, it's because on July 4, 1776—just 135 years ago—this country told King George of England that the people were tired of the way he ran things over here. England then owned America. They told him they would attend to their business for themselves thereafter.

"You see, the king wanted them to pay him so much for everything they ate and drank and wore. The king called this charge a tax and was very angry because the Americans refused to pay it. They said if he would not treat them more fairly they would not have him for their king any longer.

"It was in the old statehouse in Philadelphia on July 4, 1776, that this decision of the American people was reached. A number of delegates from all parts of the colonies had gathered there to decide what ought to be done. There was an old bell in the tower of the statehouse, and the old bell ringer was to ring the bell to let the crowd outside know when the delegates in the hall had made up their minds. He had his grandson stay downstairs to hear what they agreed to do.

"When the voting was over and John Hancock, the chairman of the meeting, said that hereafter the colonies would be free, the boy flew up the stairs to the tower and called, 'Ring, grandfather, ring!' and the old bell ringer rang so joyously that the bell cracked and is cracked to this day, as you may see when you go to visit the old statehouse, where it is still kept in honor because of the good service it did that day.

"That was the first Independence day, which we always celebrate on the Fourth of July because that was the day this congress decided to adopt the Declaration of Independence and thereafter have nothing to do with England. It took a long war to convince King George that America really meant what it said.

"It is said that Hancock, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, Robert Morris, John Adams and the others who signed the Declaration were a few days after the signing invited to the home of Dr. Enoch Edwards, who owned a fine mansion on Elm hill, on the outskirts of Philadelphia. There was music—Jefferson was a fine musician—there were speeches, there was good cheer, provided by mine host. Last of all there were skyrockets, pinwheels, roman candles and other available fireworks, with those great statesmen enjoying themselves setting them off as hugely as does any boy of today."

It is a help to the United States to have every other country in the western hemisphere a prosperous country. — Theodore Roosevelt.

You are hereby notified to furnish the central fire station and police headquarters with your Chalybeate Spring Water. Yours truly,

WEDNESDAY'S SESSION OF THE COLORED GRAND LODGE OHIO KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

The Wednesday morning session of the 24th annual convention of the colored grand lodge, Knights of Pythias of Ohio, convened at nine o'clock, with a large number of the grand officers and delegates in attendance, with Grand Chancellor Gilliam in the chair.

The morning session was devoted principally to receiving reports of the grand officers and committees.

The ritualistic work was exemplified by the grand lecturer, Harry T.

Among the large number of delegates in attendance at the convention are representative men of the colored race, including among their number men in every walk of life, from the humble laborer to the brilliant lights in the legal and medical professions, the minister, the professor, the teacher, the farmer, banker and editor. They are men who are doing things for the elevation and advancement of the race.

The visitors have been given a fine

A. J. DAVISON, Grand Attorney.

Elliott of Dayton. He showed excellent knowledge of the work and demonstrated to the satisfaction of all that he has been the right man for the place.

The report of the grand lodge officers was then taken up and Grand Treasurer Goodrich Giles of Piqua was the first to make a report. His report of endowment business made an excellent exhibit of the insurance branch, showing it to be in a very prosperous condition, having a balance in the treasury of over $25,000, a gain of $2,500 over last year.

The grand medical registrar, Dr. Lloyd H. Cox of Dayton, made his report, which showed an increase of over 1000 members during the past year, with only 55 deaths in the state. This is a remarkable statement, considering the number of members belonging to the order in Ohio. His report also showed the office to be one of the best in the order in looking after the health of the members. It has done much good in obtaining better sanitary conditions and the report also showed a decrease in pulmonary diseases among the colored people of the state.

Secretary of the Endowment Bureau John Males of Columbus made a most excellent report and one in which every one present was deeply interested. Regarding the endowment business the report showed it to have paid all claims promptly and that the bureau had its money deposited in different banks and associations throughout the state; that the financial condition of the bureau was excellent.

The convention adjourned at 11:30 o'clock and reconvened Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Tuesday afternoon a grand ball was given in A. I. U. hall, which was participated in by many of the visitors and local knights and a most enjoyable time was had by all.

Wednesday evening a grand promenade will be given at A. I. U. hall, the music for the occasion being furnished by Stevens' orchestra.

impression of Newark and have made many complimentary remarks on the people and the city.

WELCOME ADDRESS OF GEORGE G. WEAVER.

Following is the address of welcome delivered to the Grand Lodge Officers and delegates to the Grand Lodge convention now being held in this city, by George G. Weaver, on behalf of the members of Licking Lodge, No. 62, Knights of Pythias, on Monday evening.

Grand Chancellor, Honorable Mayor, Grand Worthy Counselor, Ladies of the Grand Court of Calanthe and Members of the Grand Lodge of Ohio:

It is indeed an inexpressible pleasure to have been chosen from among the members of Licking Lodge, many of whose power of speech is far in advance of mine, and whose ability to ascend to great heights of eloquence and scale her walls of oratory and most beautiful flowers, greater than mine could ever be. For, as you know, I am but a blunt soldier and it is in a plain and unpolished manner that I must bid you welcome to our city.

While sailing upon the tempestuous bosom of life's ocean and coming in contact daily with her boisterous waves and fanning billows there are moments when we look far into the future and to the time when our dream of the past will have become a reality and the achievement for which we have labored will have been accomplished.

For twelve months the members of Licking Lodge have constantly labored looking forward to your coming and planning for your entertainment. How we have succeeded you are to be the judge. We can assure you, however, that every arrangement possible has been made for your comfort and pleasure.

We are glad to have the world know that the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, has selected the beautiful City of Newark in this to hold their convention. More beautiful to us, perhaps, than to you, because to us it is everything that is implied in that most sacred of words, home.

I can conceive of no word in the English language that is more sacred and brings more joy to the heart of its possessor as the word, home, and I know of no pleasure equal to that of entertaining and making welcome our neighbors and friends in our own home.

I am pleased to welcome you for several reasons. First, because of the fact that one year ago in the City of Lima I had the honor of extending to you an invitation to hold your next session in our city, and notwithstanding the fact, at we knew the great responsibility that would rest upon us in planning for your coming and for your pleasure and comfort.

We promised you that in the event of your acceptance of the invitation that you would have nothing to regret, but that when the twenty-fourth annual session of the Grand Lodge of Ohio had become a part of Pythian history that you would carry away with you nothing but the kindest feeling for Newark and her citizens and the fondest memories of your session and I am happy to say tonight that we are prepared to keep our promise.

Secondly, because it can be clearly seen what great things can be accomplished by small forces when they have a desire. At the time you received the invitation from Licking Lodge she had enrolled upon her roster less than 20 members with no Court of Calanthe.

Our progress this year has been far beyond our fondest hopes. Fortune has smiled upon us and waved her magic wand over us; success has crowned our efforts until tonight, marching under our banner and keeping step to sweet and inspiring strains of Pythian music we have more than sixty brave Knights and a Court of Calanthe that notwithstanding her limited number of members, stands second to none in the state.

I am extremely happy to welcome you because of the opportunity it affords to show to the good citizens of Newark the negro as he really is. Never before in the history of our city has there occurred a convention of negroes of the great magnitude as the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias of Ohio.

Never before have our citizens had the opportunity of coming in contact with the negro brains of Ohio and many of them, I believe, know but little of the progress of the negro in the last half century. For as Judge Tamm of the Municipal Court of the District of Columbia said, in his address at the commencement of Tuskegee the other day: "The negro has advanced an immeasurable distance since his ancestors first set foot on American soil. From 1619 to 1868 he yielded his liberty and gave his toil unrequited to a master, his body and his intellect he gave over to an institution that would have ground to powder a less hardy people. He has done more than simply survive these hard conditions, he has proved himself in many particulars equal to the severe and exacting demands of American civilization in all of its better forms and what he has accomplished has been chiefly through his own effort and his untiring perseverance to become the equal of any other race."

The late Dr. Mayo paid a high tribute to the negro when he said, "For nearly fifty years the negro has been in touch with one of the world's most intense and highly developed civilizations and in spite of the keen and almost brutal competition in the industrial field he has been able to lay a substantial foundation on which to build the structure by which he is to be judged in the future as a real and positive force in American life. On account of this racial intensity the struggle for him is just a little harder than for the other man, but our faith looks up when we call to mind the fact, that the laws which determine the destinies of races are impartial and eternal."

"If the negro is true to himself, faithful to his obligations and appreciative of the grandeur of his opportunities he will some day take a worthy and permanent place in the higher regions of American life."

One cannot help but be optimistic with regard to the future of the negro in this country when we note the progress he has made in this, the first half century of his freedom and his

COURT NEWS

Injunction Suit.

Edward S. Rutledge has commenced suit in the Common Pleas Court to enjoin the Presbyterian church and others from entering on his real estate, or removing any trees or structures therefrom, or from digging any excavation thereon. He asks that his title to the real estate, including the trees, coal sheds, etc., be forever quieted as against any claim as assertion of the defendant, and for all other relief. He claims that the trustees of the Presbyterian church of Johnstown are now constructing a new church edifice upon the land lying immediately north of plaintiff's land, and claims the right to go on his lands and construct the building some five feet south on his lands; that they also threaten to remove the fruit and shade trees and remove the building used by him in storing coal.

YOUNGEST CAPTAIN IN REGULAR ARMY HAS RELATIVE HERE

Captain Raymond Briggs, who is the youngest captain in the United States army, having been brevetted on several occasions for gallantry, from the rank of private to a captain, passed through the city on Panhandle No. 10, enroute to Washington from the Pacific coast, where he is to purchase a number of cavalry horses, and he is under secret orders to go to Japan, where he will probably review the maneuvers of the army of that country as a representative of the United States army. Mrs. William Miller of this city, who is an aunt of the captain, received a telegram, requesting her to be at the Panhandle depot when the train passed through the city. Mrs. Miller was at the depot on the arrival of the train and there was a joyful reunion as they had not met for a number of years. One of the most venturesome of Capt. Briggs' feats was the taking charge of the dynamiting squad in San Francisco at the time of the earthquake, which practically saved the city from complete destruction.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

I was thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

SUGAR TRUST

Sugar Refining company when the matter of making contributions to political parties was discussed.

"I have not recollection of any such meeting."

"Did not your company make money contributions to both parties, no matter which one, the company would be safe?"

"Not that I know of."

"What about the report in 1892 that a resolution was submitted to the board of directors to make political donations, a report which does not tell what was done?"

"That was in 1892. I became a director in 1893."

"Now come on right out, Mr. Thomas, and tell us how much the company gave in the campaign in 1900."

"Not one cent, and we were not asked for any."

"How much in 1901 did you give to the Harrison fund?"

"Nothing."

"Do you mean to say the company was not asked by either of the big parties for money?"

"Not to my knowledge."

Mr. Baker got Mr. Thomas to admit that while the board of directors was practically self-perpetuating, no director ever had been elected who had been opposed by the existing board.

John Arbuckle, whom the committee considered the most important witness it was to question here, is so ill at Mohonk Lake that a subcommittee, consisting of Representatives Garrett of Tennessee and Madison of Kansas, was appointed by Chairman Hardwick to go there to take his testimony. They probably will go Friday. Mr. Arbuckle is expected to give much information of the big sugar war between his company and the American, and more particularly the terms of settlement. It has been said that only two men knew what those terms were, Mr. Arbuckle and H. O. Havemeyer. Havemeyer is dead.

In addition to the sugar manufacturers, the committee expects to hear employees of the customs service and review charges of fraud practiced by the sugar interests upon this branch of the federal service. Among these employees is Richard Parr, deputy surveyor of customs, who received a large reward for revealing the trick scales by which the alleged trust defrauded the government of more than $1,000,000 in duties on sugar imports.

Former Prices, Real Values, Possible Profits Are Entirely Ignored in This Manufacturers' Surplus Sale Saving Opportunities Are Numberless

In comparison with the prices that are usually asked and received for such new, dependable and up-to-the-moment goods, these Manufacturers' Surplus Sale prices are apparently stripped of all profits.

We do make some profit, of course. For as we explained in our first announcement, the majority of these goods were bought at the psychological moment from manufacturers who preferred our ready cash at any sacrifice of profit to merchandise that threatened to be left on their hands. The point that is of vital importance to you, however, is that in this Manufacturers' Surplus Sale you can make provision for your present and future requirements at an unusually low cost.

Don't you think that it would be absolute folly to ignore such a golden buying opportunity as this? Many new lots which were crowded out at the beginning of the Sale, will be added tomorrow.

FAMILY OF FIVE ENROUTE TO EAST LOSE TICKETS

There was a happy family, consisting of father, mother and three children on Panhandle No. 10, east bound, Wednesday morning. They were on their way from Portland, Ore., to Baltimore, and while enroute the man had lost all the railroad tickets. When the conductor of No. 10 collected the tickets on his train the stranger explained the situation to him. The conductor suggested that a diligent search be made for the tickets, which was done, but without result. The man then surrendered all his baggage checks to the conductor, who agreed to see that passengers and baggage reached their destination, and thus it was that they were made happy.

BOYS' BRIGADES ENGAGE IN SCOUT ACTIVITIES.

Because of the wide appeal of the boy scout activities, leaders of various scout activities, organizations, while still retaining their own independence, are adopting various parts of the boy scout work. Such a plan is approved thoroughly by the leaders of the boy scout movement. While it is believed that much better results would be accomplished among the boys by having only one organization, yet the leaders of the boy scouts are glad to have any other organization adopt various parts of the boy scout work. In fact, General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, originator of the English movement, developed the boy scout work with the idea that it could be taken up by boys in the Y. M. C. A., the Boys' Brigade and similar organizations. That idea is carried out in the American organization. The California branch of the United Boys Brigade of America has written to the Boy Scouts of America asking if there is any objection if that organization uses part of the boy scout work. Of course there is none, and it seems likely that within a short time the boy scout work will be taken up by boys' brigades in California and in other states throughout the country.
